Dear Sponsor,

The Saskatchewan Indigenous Cultural Centre (SICC) is dedicated to language and cultural preservation and revitalization. SICC is planning our 2019 First Nations Language Keepers Gathering (FNLKG) to be held from November 6-7, 2019 in Saskatoon, SK. The theme is Our Sacred Languages Walk With Us. This year marks the 14th year of the FNLKG. In the past, we have been fortunate to have had support from organizations like yours and this year, we are asking for your assistance again.

This gathering has grown to serve both the First Nations and non-First Nations communities alike. The gathering serves the communities by bringing together participants to share best practices and to disseminate educational language programs, resources and other recent linguistic developments. We aim to host 750 people annually including educators, linguists and language developers who rely on the FNLKG to network, liaise and gather information relevant to their language and cultural needs. Elders have always said that our cultures are imbedded in our languages and that our languages have spirits and this gathering is intended to highlight and promote language preservations with a focus on culture and other similar endeavors. We have been planning since January and are excited with developments thus far.

We have included detailed information on sponsorship levels. Each sponsorship level highlights the recognition that your organization will receive upon becoming a language keeper.

Your generous donation will assist SICC in working towards First Nations language advancements and cultural preservation in the spirit of reconciliation. A member of our FNLKG Sponsorship Committee will be in contact with you in the next few weeks for follow up conversation.
